This Conference reviewed the progress of implementation of various land reforms measures. The consensus arrived at in the conference has reiterated the suggestions and recommendations on various points contained in consensus of earlier conferences held in 1985 and 1986 besides those covering certain other aspects of various land reforms measures, revenue administration, land records management etc

The conference specifically supported the proposal to constitute a National Revenue Commission to comprehensively look into various aspects of reorganisation of the Revenue Administration besides welcoming the idea of setting up a National level institution to under-take on a continuing basis research and evaluation of land reform programmes

In order to give a sharper thrust to certain areas of land reforms programmes, in the 8th Plan, the conference suggested that identification of informal tenants and share-croppers and bringing them on record with a view to confer rights on them, detection of cases of tribal land alienation and restoration of alienated land to them, allotment of land to women beneficiaries, verification of possession over land in respect of allottees under different land allotment programmes, providing development assistance to SC / ST allottees of land and also organisation of rural poor should be taken up on a target basis.

Since land is a State subject further action in pursuence of most items of this consensus has to be taken by the State Governments.

No decision has yet been taken in respect of some items in the consensus such as the setting up of the National Land Revenue Commission, which relate to the Central Government.
